TEMPLATE 1: The Financial Health Check -- 10-Point Assessment

THE FINANCIAL HEALTH CHECK

10 Questions That Reveal the Truth About Your Money

By [YOUR NAME], Financial Coach | [YOUR BUSINESS]

[Disclaimer: This is an educational self-assessment tool, not regulated financial advice. Consult a qualified financial adviser for personalised investment or pension guidance.]

Instructions: Answer YES or NO to each question honestly.

1. Emergency Fund: Do you have at least 3-6 months of essential living expenses saved in an accessible account? Could you cover a GBP2,000 emergency tomorrow without using a credit card or borrowing?
2. Debt Clarity: Can you state exactly how much you owe in total, across all debts, including the interest rate on each? Do you have a written plan to become debt-free with a specific target date?
3. Budget Awareness: Do you have a monthly budget that accounts for every pound of income? Do you know, within GBP50, how much you spent last month on non-essential items?
4. Retirement on Track: Based on your current savings rate and pension contributions, are you on track to maintain your desired lifestyle in retirement? Have you calculated the actual number you need?
5. Income Growth: Has your income increased by at least 5% in the last 12 months (through pay rise, side income, or investment returns)? Are you actively working to grow your earning capacity?
6. Protection: Do you have adequate insurance coverage (life, income protection, critical illness) to protect your family if something happened to you? When did you last review your policies?
7. Investing: Are you investing at least 15-20% of your gross income for the future? Are your investments diversified and aligned with your time horizon and risk tolerance?
8. Tax Efficiency: Are you maximising your ISA allowance, pension tax relief, and any other available tax-efficient wrappers? Do you know how much you could be saving in tax?
9. Financial Goals: Do you have written financial goals for the next 1, 5, and 10 years with specific numbers and dates? Do you review and adjust them quarterly?

- 10. Money Mindset: Is money a source of empowerment and freedom in your life rather than stress and anxiety? Can you have honest conversations about money with your partner or family?

YOUR RESULTS:

8-10 YES: Excellent financial health. You have strong foundations and discipline. A financial coach can help you optimise, build wealth faster, and plan for financial independence.

5-7 YES: Solid but with significant gaps. These gaps are likely costing you thousands per year in missed opportunities, unnecessary interest, and tax inefficiency.

2-4 YES: Financial stress is probably a regular part of your life. You are earning money but not building wealth. The good news: a structured plan can transform your financial position within 12 months.

0-1 YES: You are in financial survival mode. This is more common than you think, and it is not a reflection of your intelligence or character. It is a skills and system problem, and both are fixable.

[YOUR NAME] offers a free 30-minute Financial Clarity Call to review your results and create a personalised action plan.

TEMPLATE 2: 5 Money Mistakes Costing You GBP100K by Retirement -- Mini-Guide

--- BEGIN TEMPLATE ---

5 MONEY MISTAKES THAT WILL COST YOU GBP100,000+ BY RETIREMENT

By [YOUR NAME], Financial Coach

[Disclaimer: For educational purposes only. Not regulated financial advice.]

These five mistakes are so common they feel normal. That is exactly why they are so dangerous. Each one silently erodes your wealth year after year, and by the time you notice the cumulative damage, you have lost decades of compounding.

MISTAKE 1: Not Starting to Invest Early Enough

Every year you delay investing costs you exponentially more than you think. Thanks to compound interest, GBP200/month invested at age 25 grows to approximately GBP380,000 by age 60 (assuming 7% average annual return). Start the same GBP200/month at age 35, and you reach only GBP175,000. That 10-year delay costs you over GBP200,000.

The money you invest in your 20s and 30s is worth 4-8x more than the same amount invested in your 40s and 50s. Time is the most powerful wealth-building tool, and you cannot get it back.

The Fix: Start investing something today, even if it is GBP50/month. Open a Stocks and Shares ISA with a low-cost platform (Vanguard, AJ Bell, Trading 212). Choose a global index fund. Set up a monthly direct debit and forget about it. Increase the amount as your income grows.

MISTAKE 2: Paying Minimum Payments on Debt

Minimum payments are designed to maximise the interest the lender earns, not to help you. A GBP5,000 credit card balance at 22% APR with minimum payments takes over 25 years to repay and costs over GBP6,000 in interest -- more than the original debt.

The Fix: List all debts with balances and interest rates. Attack the highest-interest debt first (avalanche method) while making minimums on everything else. Once the first debt is cleared, roll that payment into the next. Consider a 0% balance transfer card to reduce interest while you pay down. Cut the cards once they are clear.

MISTAKE 3: Ignoring Your Pension

Your workplace pension is literally free money. If your employer matches 5% and you opt out (or contribute only the minimum), you are turning down a guaranteed 100% instant return on your money. No investment in history has beaten that.

Most people have no idea how much is in their pension, what it is invested in, or whether it will be enough. They assume it will work out. It often does not.

The Fix: Log into your pension provider's website today. Check your balance, your contribution rate, and your fund selection. Increase your contribution to at least your employer's maximum match. Consolidate old pensions from previous jobs into one account for simplicity and lower fees.

MISTAKE 4: Lifestyle Inflation Eating Every Pay Rise

You earn GBP30,000 and struggle. You earn GBP50,000 and struggle. You earn GBP80,000 and still struggle. This is lifestyle inflation: as income rises, spending rises to match it.

The wealthiest people are not those who earn the most. They are those who keep the largest gap between income and spending.

The Fix: Every time your income increases, save or invest at least 50% of the increase before adjusting your lifestyle. If you get a GBP5,000 raise, direct GBP2,500 to investments automatically. You will barely notice the lifestyle difference, but over 20 years the wealth difference is enormous.

MISTAKE 5: No Written Financial Plan

Hope is not a strategy. Vague goals like 'save more' or 'be comfortable in retirement' are not plans. Without specific numbers, dates, and tracked progress, your financial future is left to chance.

The Fix: Define 3 financial goals with specific numbers and dates: (1) Emergency fund target and date. (2) Debt-free target and date. (3) Investment/retirement target and date. Review monthly. Adjust quarterly. This takes 15 minutes per month and is the single most impactful financial habit you can build.

MONEY MANAGEMENT CHEAT SHEET

The Essential Rules and Numbers for Financial Success

By [YOUR NAME] | [YOUR WEBSITE]

[Not financial advice. For educational purposes only.]

THE 50/30/20 BUDGET RULE:

- 50% of take-home pay: Needs (rent, bills, food, transport, insurance)
- 30% of take-home pay: Wants (entertainment, dining, hobbies, subscriptions)
- 20% of take-home pay: Savings & investments (emergency fund, pension, ISA)

EMERGENCY FUND TARGETS:

- Minimum: 3 months essential expenses
- Ideal: 6 months essential expenses
- Self-employed: 9-12 months essential expenses
- Keep in easy-access savings account (not invested)

DEBT PAYOFF STRATEGIES:

- Avalanche method: pay highest interest rate first (saves the most money)
- Snowball method: pay smallest balance first (builds motivation)
- Both work -- choose the one you will stick with
- Always pay more than minimums on your target debt

INVESTMENT RULES OF THUMB:

- Start with employer pension match (free money)
- Then max your ISA (GBP20,000/year tax-free growth)
- Rule of 72: divide 72 by your return rate = years to double
- At 7% return: money doubles every 10.3 years
- Time in market beats timing the market -- always
- Low-cost global index funds for 90% of people

TAX EFFICIENCY QUICK WINS:

- Pension: contributions reduce your taxable income
- ISA: GBP20,000/year grows completely tax-free
- Marriage allowance: save up to GBP252/year
- Gift Aid on charity donations: reclaim 25%
- Capital gains allowance: GBP3,000/year (2026-27)

SALARY NEGOTIATION:

- Research market rate before any conversation
- Never give your number first
- Frame asks in value delivered, not personal needs
- Negotiate total package: salary + bonus + pension + benefits
- Best time to negotiate: after a win or during review period

FINANCIAL MILESTONES BY AGE (Guidelines, Not Rules):

- By 30: Debt-free (except mortgage), 3-month emergency fund
- By 35: 1x annual salary saved/invested
- By 40: 3x annual salary saved/invested
- By 50: 6x annual salary saved/invested
- By 60: 10x annual salary saved/invested

MONEY HABITS THAT COMPOUND:

- Automate savings on payday (pay yourself first)
- Review subscriptions quarterly (cancel unused ones)
- Wait 48 hours before any purchase over GBP100
- Track net worth monthly (what gets measured grows)
- Increase savings rate by 1% every 6 months

How to Use These Templates

Deploy these templates to attract clients who are ready to take control of their money.

1. Customise and Comply: Replace all placeholders. Critically important: include disclaimers on every template that your content is educational and not regulated financial advice. If you are FCA-regulated, include your registration details. If not, be clear about the boundary between coaching and advice.
2. Choose Your Platforms: The money cheat sheet is highly shareable on social media and works as a printed handout. The 5 Mistakes guide is excellent as a blog post or podcast episode. The scorecard works best as an interactive quiz. The workbook is a premium opt-in for people who download the cheat sheet first.
3. Build Trust Through Education: Financial coaching prospects are often embarrassed about their situation. Lead with empathy and normalisation, not fear. Your content should make them feel understood, not judged. Share your own financial journey (if appropriate) to build connection.
4. Drive Traffic: Instagram (money tips, myth-busting), TikTok (quick financial hacks), YouTube (in-depth money guides), and LinkedIn (for high-income professionals). SEO-optimised blog posts answering common money questions drive long-term organic traffic. Partner with mortgage brokers, accountants, and estate agents for referrals.
5. Follow-Up Sequence: Email 1 delivers the template. Email 2 shares a money-saving tip they can use today. Email 3 tells a client success story (anonymised). Email 4 addresses the 'I cannot afford coaching' objection (reframe: you cannot afford NOT to fix this). Email 5 offers the free financial clarity call.
6. Convert and Deliver: Frame coaching sessions around specific financial outcomes: 'In 90 days, my clients typically save GBP500+/month, eliminate high-interest debt, and build their first investment portfolio.' Specific, tangible outcomes convert better than vague promises.

PRO TIPS FOR FINANCIAL COACHES:

- The money cheat sheet is your most viral template. People screenshot and share it constantly.
- Numbers sell in this niche. Always quantify the impact: 'This mistake costs GBP50,000' is more compelling than 'This mistake costs you money.'
- Compliance matters. Be very clear about the distinction between financial coaching (mindset, habits, budgeting) and regulated financial advice (investment recommendations, pensions guidance).
- Group programmes work exceptionally well: '90-Day Money Makeover' challenges create community and accountability.
- January and September are peak months for financial coaching sign-ups. Ramp up marketing in December and August.
